

Question - Grade Book

Implement the following class diagrams as follows:

- Each class implement the Displayable interface and the display method should display all the current object's and its superclass object's information.
- Define appropriate parameters properly so that all the objects can be created properly.
- Define appropriate set and get methods if needed in other classes' methods.

